Construction Work on New I. N. U. Plant Here Halted by WPB

Princeton City Electric Improvement Project Among Many Stopped

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Civilian war production projects with probable "widespread curtailment" of electricity consumption as the War Production Board suspended or halted work on 85 public and private power projects.

Readjusting its entire wartime expansion program to reduce the amount of power available for war work as well as essential civilian needs, the board announced last night that its action had "substantially enhanced the probability of widespread curtailment" in luxury uses of electricity.

The revised program, WPB said, gave the green light only to sufficient power prospects to assure electricity for war and indirect war production with a "small margin" allowed for possible additions to the present production schedule.

Demand of the war program, the board explained, made it "impossible to preserve the standards of reliability of service observed in peace times."

Accordingly, WPB stepped up priority ratings on power projects regarded as urgently necessary and acted to bar others from obtaining critical materials needed for war purposes.

In addition, 23 government projects authorized by congress were reduced to low priority ratings or listed at their present low rated or unrated status. Work on these projects will be continued only where materials are unneeded for war uses.

Allowed New Capacity

The program provides for a total of 5,500,000 kilowatts of new capacity until early 1944, including 3,400,000 kilowatts for private projects. The 85 projects suspended or halted represented a total of 2,200,000 kilowatts scheduled for operation in 1943 and 1944.

The official announcement carried a list of projects "halted or suspended, in whole or in part," and another list of "government projects proceeding on lower priorities or unrated."

Among the projects listed as "halted or suspended in whole or in part," with the listed "plant or location," were:

Central Illinois Electric & Gas Co., Rockford; Central Illinois Public Service Co., Meredosia; Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago, Fisk No. 18; Flora, City of, Flora, Ill.; Hinsdale Village, Hinsdale, Ill.

Illinois-Iowa Power Company, Peoria; Illinois Northern Utilities Co., Dixon; Princeton, City, Princeton, Ill.; Produce Terminal Corporation, Chicago.

More Than 2 Million Ill. Workers Buy Bonds

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—War bonds are being purchased by more than two million workers in 9,200 Illinois companies who are enrolled in the treasury department's payroll savings plan, E. B. Smith, deputy administrator of the Illinois war savings staff, reported yesterday.

Last month, Smith said, purchase through the payroll deduction plan was approximately 18 million dollars, adding that "Illinois firms and their workers have done well, but not well enough."

He said 50,000 firms in the state were eligible for the plan, which has made rapid strides since inaugurated last February. Approximately 77 per cent of the workers in the 9,200 participating firms are enrolled in the plan, the deputy administrator estimated. He added that employees of 700 Illinois firms were placing 10 per cent of their gross payrolls in war bonds.

The War Today!

The five-year-old war in China recently has undergone a startling change. Three months ago the Japanese opened a campaign that some feared might knock China out of the war. Six weeks ago most of east-central China seemed to be falling into their hands. But today a large part of their gains has been cancelled.

On other China fronts they have been stalemated for weeks. Their proudly-announced plan to establish an all-rail connection between Shanghai and Singapore definitely is on the shelf.

It still is too early to say whether this is the result primarily of reinvigorated Chinese striking power or of change in the Japanese army's plans. In either case, however, evidence points to the early opening of a new phase of the Pacific war, taking the form either of a bold new Japanese stroke or of the passing of the initiative in China from Japanese hands.

Our information thus far comes entirely from the Chinese. The Japanese are silent about what is happening in Kiangsi and Chekiang provinces, where the most marked change has come about, as is their wont when things are not going well for them or they are plotting something new. Briefly, the Chinese picture of the situation is this:

In Mid-May the Japanese, using perhaps 200,000 men, began co-ordinated attacks southwestward from Hangchow, in Chekiang province, and southeastward from Nanchang, in Kiangsi, driving from either end of the Chekiang-Kiangsi railway. The avowed objectives were to seize all the railway and take half a dozen cities which the Japanese believed to be sites of airbases from which their home islands could be bombed. By Philadelphia, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Standing on a street corner, William Rock said to a friend, "Look at that car travel. There goes a hospital case."

Police held the driver on a charge of drunken driving.

Law on Heels of Jake the Barber Again; This Time for Mail Fraud

Chicago, Aug. 22.—(AP)—John (Jake) the Barber, Factor, who made millions by his wits, including a few bucks at cards from the Duke of Windsor, faced a federal indictment today charging him and 11 others with a $1,000,000 mail fraud.

Bench warrants issued here disclosed that a 24-count indictment was returned Thursday in Cedar Rapids, Ia., alleging the 12 defendants swindled some 300 persons, mostly midwesterners, of $1,000,000 since 1939 in whiskey warehouse receipt transactions.

Thomas B. Hart, regional director for the Securities & Exchange Commission, said the government alleged that Factor and the others persuaded holders of receipts to surrender them on the promise that whiskey would be bottled and sold at big profits by three now defunct Chicago companies.

U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker issued warrants here for the arrest of Factor, Henry and Leo Bernstein, Albert A. Slater, Sidney Epstein and Sam Seinfeld, all of Chicago. Hart said the others indicted were Edward Mallon, Los Angeles; Maxwell Oxman, Joseph Konviser and Sidney Davis, New York; Edward L. Sloan, St. Paul, and Frank Husak, Cedar Rapids.

Factor, once a barber in Chicago, had the law on his heels for nearly 20 years but it never convicted him.

In 1931 he surrendered here on warrants charging him with fleecing thousands of British investors of $7,000,000 by manipulating mining stock prices. He finally avoided extradition to England and in 1936 settled civil claims in the case for $1,300,000.

On July 1, 1938, Factor was kidnapped north of Chicago and held for 12 days. Court records showed he paid $70,000 for his release. Four members of the Touhy gang went to prison for long terms for the kidnapping.

Factor once told reporters he "took" the Duke of Windsor, then Prince of Wales, for $500 at chemin de fer and said he didn't think the prince had much card sense.

Legionnaires Seek Ways to Expand Aid in 2nd World Conflict

Hold First Business Session of 24th Annual State Convention

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Sobered American Legionnaires, many with sons fighting in the new war to end aggression, today sought ways to expand their aid in the second world conflict in the first business session of the 24th annual state convention.

Resolutions and committee reports up for study sought additional men among the Legion membership for jobs in defense industry, urged that the government recognize merits of veterans seeking commissions and advancement in the present fighting force, decried the state of national defense prior to the current conflict and urged that the axis nations be disarmed forever.

Gathered in strength at least equal to former years despite travel difficulties, most of the delegates paid serious attention to business. Of course, there were the usual Legionnaires directing traffic and snarling it—scaring street corner passersby with noise-makers, and whooping through the city in weird contraptions.

Bombers Crash in Midair; 7 Dead

Baton Rouge, La., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Army rescue workers searched a heavily wooded section near here today for additional victims of a crash of two medium bombers late yesterday. Seven bodies had been recovered.

The Army said names of the victims would not be made public until the relatives had been notified.

Officers at Harding Field, near here, said the two planes were in a flight of five and had just taken off on an "operational mission" when they crashed in midair.

The planes crashed into the ground about 400 yards apart, one bursting into flames immediately and the other becoming deeply embedded in soft, rain-soaked earth, according to the army.

Indicating that more airmen were in the colliding bombers, the Army said eyewitnesses reported a number of men floated to earth by parachute.

ers indicted were Edward Mallon, Los Angeles; Maxwell Oxman, Joseph Konviser and Sidney Davis, New York; Edward L. Sloan, St. Paul, and Frank Husak, Cedar Rapids.

Series of Violent Counter Offensives Launched by Soviet

Reported Throwing Nazi Invaders Back in Big "Battle of the Bend"

By The Associated Press
Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red armies were reported launching a series of violent counter-attacks in the "Battle of the Bend" 40 miles northwest of Stalingrad today, throwing the Germans back on the defensive, while the invaders rushed masses of reserves into action south of the great Volga steel city.

In the Caucasus, new soviet retreats were acknowledged below Pyatigorsk and Krasnodar, but Red army headquarters said the Russians had wiped out German vanguards in the hills southeast of Pyatigorsk and killed 1,000 nazis in a three-day battle south of Krasnodar.

German field headquarters said axis columns striking into the northwest Caucasus had captured the rail town of Krymskaya, only 20 miles from the Russian Black sea naval base at Novorossisk.

On the Stalingrad front, the soviet radio said the Red armies were launching one counter-attack after another, stemming the eight-week-old nazi power drive, and a broadcast beamed to Europe's conquered nations declared:

Great Offensive Coming

"A great United Nations offensive against Germany is now being prepared."

In the Kotelnikovsk sector, 95 miles south of Stalingrad, the Russian command reported "intense engagements," with the Germans attacking heavily with tanks and motorized infantry.

In the western air war, U. S. Air Force pilots, flying British Spitfires, took part in patrols over the Straits of Dover and northern France this morning, crossing the channel at frequent intervals.

The Egyptian battlefield remained quiet, shrouded by blinding dust storms.

LIKE 1918 FIGHTING

By Harry Crockett
Cairo, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Front line war in the western desert has become old-fashioned trench fighting like that of 1918—only the trenches aren't so good.

The interim in the mechanized sweeps which characterized the Libyan fighting will last, of course, until one side or the other swings into a new offensive.

In the meantime the troops are fighting from ditches about 18 inches deep, six feet long and two feet wide.

Both the axis and United Nations are well dug in along a line from Alamein to the Qattara Depression.

The desert frontlines look out across a series of barbed wire entanglements and mine fields. The strip between the mine fields is so narrow that New Zealand troops who went out at night to fix their own fields said they could hear German soldiers talking.

The soldier's day begins at 5:30. He must breakfast before dawn for two reasons: the flies and the enemy, and right now the flies are the greatest torment.

A head, poked above ground during daylight hours is the sign for a flurry of firing. But soldiers must eat, and each day one of each small group of men

Coffee Rationing Is Possibility; Quotas to Dealers Reduced

Washington, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Possibility of coffee rationing appeared closer today with the government ordering further restrictions in deliveries to dealers because of the shipping shortage between this country and Latin America.

The order, issued yesterday by the War Production Board, will restrict deliveries beginning Sept. 1 to 65 per cent of last year's as compared with the present monthly quota of 75 per cent.

The new quotas will reduce the per capita coffee consumption from about 1 1/8 pounds a month in normal times to less than 7/8 of a pound.

American Rangers Ready to Tackle Almost Anything

London, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Four American Rangers who believe they may have been the first United States soldiers to fight on French soil in this war when they scrambled ashore at Dieppe with British Commandos agreed today they're ready to tackle almost anything after their experiences in that foray.

The quartet—Corporal William R. Brady of Grand Forks, N. D.; Staff Sergeant Kenneth Stenson of Russell, Minn.; Corporal Franklin M. Koons of Sweet City, Ia., and Sergeant Alex J. Szima of Dayton—sprayed the Germans they encountered with new Garand rifle slugs and, as one said, "we were picking 'em off like ducks all day long."

"We found we were having fun," they said.

Their first task was to scale a 75-foot cliff north of Dieppe and knock out two German pillboxes.

"It looked like a suicide mission, but damned if we didn't make it," said Corporal Brady. The first pill box was empty when they arrived.

They were heading for the second pillbox under fire from German snipers when two British Spitfires flew low and put it out of action with machinegun bullets.

"Got the Hell Out"

With their British Commando unit, the Americans moved on to a crossroads and found a ten-man German patrol. In the shooting that followed five Germans were put out of action, they said.

The others, Brady declared, "got the hell out of there."

Sergeant Szima, new to war like his three American companions, was a little puzzled when a French housewife became very angry because he tramped through her vegetable garden. But he didn't worry about it.

"Any minute I thought I'd see a German helmet followed by a handful of grenades," he said.

Moving into an orchard, they found a German anti-aircraft gun crew at work.

"I saw them getting ready to fire at the Spitfires," Szima said. "I was getting my rifle ready when a British officer said we'd do it the quick way. So he calls up some Bren gunners and they choped down the gun crew."

"They started firing back. My hat fell off. I bent over to pick it up and found a bullet in it. Then I got a bullet over my shoulder. Another hit the concrete. That guy had me picked as his meat."

Charges Army Officer Raped Her; Shoots Self

Belleville, Ill., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Eight hours before Assistant State's Attorney Fred Bier received a letter yesterday from an East St. Louis woman declaring her intention of killing herself because she was to have a child by an army officer she said attacked her last July, her body was found near a country road with a bullet wound in the abdomen.

Bier learned of the death of Mrs. Elsie Franke, 39-year-old widow, only after he went to her home to investigate the letter. Beside her body was a .38 caliber revolver which belonged to her husband before his death a year and a half ago.

The accused officer did not testify at an inquest held at Dupo in which a verdict of suicide was returned. Relatives of Mrs. Franke said she had been despondent since her husband's death.

In the letter she wrote that the officer "said he would deny our relationship if I ever told about it."

WILL JOIN ALLIES, IF—

New York, Aug. 22.—(AP)—Gen. Nuri Pasha Es-Said, premier of Iraq, asserted his country would "declare war and fight on the side of the allies" if the Germans break through the Caucasus, a British broadcast of a Reuters news agency dispatch reported today.

Married Men Told To Get Affairs in Order; Call Coming

"End in Sight" of Unmarried Men Fit to Serve in Army

Married men without children should "begin making arrangements now" to enter the army, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, declared at Evanston yesterday, adding that all single men, between the ages of 20 and 45 years who are without physical defects probably will be in uniform by Christmas.

Gen. Hershey declared that "the end is in sight" of the available supply of single men for military duty, and said that reclassification of all married men would start "probably in October and certainly by Christmas."

"When the supply of single men is gone in the next few months," he said, "we must dip into the group of men with wives and secondary dependents."

Gen. Hershey said selective service needs men "at a rate which would have been considered superhuman a year ago," but he declined to give specific figures on any phase of the draft program.

Maj. Gen. Hershey suggested that single men start putting their affairs in shape now because "they will probably be called before Christmas."

To Call 18, 19 Year Olds

He indicated that 18 and 19 year old youths also would be summoned for army service before the end of the year with congress expected to amend the selective service act to permit their call within the next few months.

As soon as all single men are called, married men with dependent wives, will be summoned for service, with the first of these probably being called up in November.

Able-bodied men of draft age who have been deferred because of employment in essential war industries are also slated to be called for army service, Hershey said, adding, "the number of men who think they are indispensable in war industry will be materially reduced in the very near future."

Ungrateful Hitch-Hikers Are Jailed

James Griffith, 30, and James Romayne, 23, Chicago hitch-hikers, proved ungrateful recipients of the hospitality extended by Mr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Risetter of Willow Creek township in the east end of the county last evening and today were being held in the Lee county jail. The two men were said to have come to Dixon seeking employment and not being satisfied with conditions, were hitch-hiking back to Chicago.

They went to the Risetter home last evening and asked for food. Mrs. Risetter preparing them a lunch. After the stranger left the members of the Risetter family went to Lee, and Mr. Risetter arrived home a short time later to discover that the home had been ransacked. Before entering the house, he had observed two men hurrying through a field and after making the discovery, went to Lee where he obtained the assistance of a DeKalb county deputy sheriff, and both went in pursuit and captured the strangers.

They were both brought to Dixon and delivered to the county jail where they are being held pending further investigation.

Philadelphia Minister Is Found Guilty of Espionage Late Friday

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 22.—(AP)—Stocky Rev. Kurt E. B. Molzahn today faced a prison sentence, possibly 20 years, after being convicted of a charge of conspiracy to violate the espionage act by attempting to deliver military secrets of the United States, his adopted home, to axis powers.

The 47-year-old pastor of the German Lutheran church in Philadelphia Franklin Square showed no signs of emotion late yesterday as a federal jury of eight men and four women, after two hours of deliberation, found him guilty.

Although Judge J. Joseph Smith, granting a defense plea, continued the pastor's case until Tuesday, he immediately sentenced three of the clergyman's co-conspirators including Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former "feuhrrer" of the German-American Bund.

Kunze, a self-described German citizen, although born in Camden, N. J., was sentenced to 15 years.

The others, Dr. Wolfgang Ebell, 43, El Paso, Tex., physician, was given seven years, and Dr. Otto Willumeit, 37, Chicago ex-Bund leader, was ordered to serve five years.

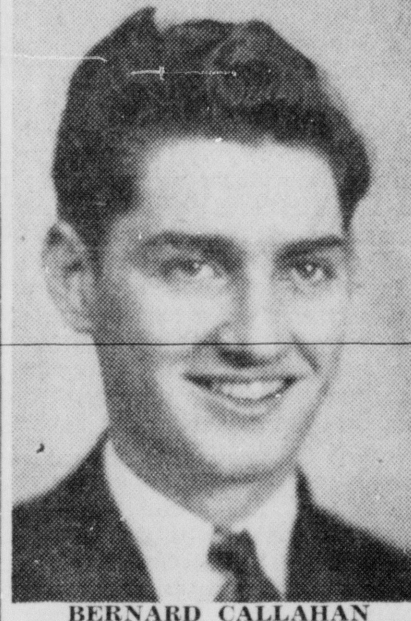

The fifth conspirator Anastase A. Vonsiatky of Thompson, Conn., Russian fascist leader, drew a five-year term before the four-week long Molzahn trial began.

Only the pastor stood trial. The others pleaded guilty.

As soon as the foreman announced the decision, Prosecutor Thomas J. Dodd, Jr. urged that the maximum penalty of the peacetime espionage act—20 years in prison—be invoked immediately.

Judge Smith informed the defense, however, that its motion to set aside the verdict and grant a new trial would be heard on Tuesday.

BERNARD CALLAHAN

"Bernie", son of Mrs. Iva Callahan of 517 College avenue, left yesterday for Urbana, where he has accepted a part-time position as agency manager of The Champaign Gazette. He is to have charge of all circulation in Urbana, and plans to attend the University of Illinois to study journalism.

For nearly six years "Bernie" has been associated with The Dixon Evening Telegraph, serving first as carrier salesman, then office boy, member of the mailing room staff, and photographer. The entire staff wishes him success in his new position and in his studies at the university.

The young newspaperman was graduated from Dixon high school with the class of '42, and as a senior was elected "mayor" of the city in the school's annual civics project.

Government Tries to Terminate Strike in Detroit

By The Associated Press

A War Production Board agency undertook today to bring to a quick and peaceful conclusion a strike at the Chrysler tank arsenal in Detroit.

The case was in the hands of the WPB board of review, which was set up under a stabilization agreement with the Building Trades Council of the American Federation of Labor.

H. L. Weckler, vice president of the corporation, reported that 475 AFL construction workers had stopped work at the arsenal on orders of Ed Thal, secretary of the Detroit Building Trades Council, in protest against the hiring of some members of the Congress of Industrial Organization.

E. J. Hunt, operating manager, said that the strike "does not interfere with tank production" at the arsenal.

The men on strike, are not tank-makers, but construction workers. Their action, Hunt asserted, constituted sabotage which "definitely holds up our future production schedule."

"Every minute we lose at this time," he said, "means that we meet our future advanced production schedules that much later."

Victors in Hand-to-Hand Fight in Dark on Solomon Island

Admiral Nimitz Gives Details of Surprise on Makin Island

Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, Aug. 22.—(AP)—United States Marines stood fast in their hard won positions in the Solomon islands today after wiping out a 700-man Japanese force which tried a stealthy night landing to piece the American lines.

Other Marines and American Bluejackets, with Major James Roosevelt, the president's eldest son, one of their leaders, destroyed a Japanese seaplane base in an extension of the United States offensive to Makin island, in the Gilbert group, 1,500 miles northeast of the American-held Solomons.

Communications issued by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander of the U. S. Pacific Fleet, told of the flareup of fighting in which the enemy was surprised and destroyed.

In first detailed accounts of the Solomon island fighting, where the Marines with a Navy covering force captured Japanese positions and sent the enemy fleeing into hills and jungles, Admiral Nimitz related the destruction of the Japanese force.

Mopping up operations, with daily skirmishes between Marine patrols and enemy detachments, have been in progress since the initial Marine landings the night of Aug. 7, the communique said.

But last Wednesday night 700 well-equipped Japanese landed from highspeed boats outside the Marines' lines, on an unnamed island, and attempted a breakthrough.

Hand-to-Hand Fighting

"During the darkness only hand to hand fighting was possible," the communique said, "but with the breaking of day the Marines were able to maneuver. While one battalion held the front line another battalion moved to a flank and drove them withdrawing Japanese to the beach."

"The action continued until late afternoon. Of the 700 Japanese, 670 are dead, the rest prisoners. Marine losses were 28 killed and 72 wounded."

The communique also told of a fight between Marine patrol and a Japanese detachment in the Solomons last Wednesday, in which the Americans lost only six killed and 13 wounded while wiping out the enemy unit of 92 officers and men, who continued resistance "until the last man was killed."

Major Roosevelt, who in November, 1940, left film producing in Hollywood for active service in the Marine Corps, was second in command of the Devil-Dog detachment which raided Makin island Aug. 17. The commander was Lieut. Col. Evans F. Carlson, while Commander John W. Haines, U. S. N., directed the entire operation, which was covered by fleet units.

Objective Accomplished

Admiral Nimitz said the Marines made a successful landing and accomplished their objective of destroying seaplane installations. Following the action, the force withdrew, the Admiral said, giving a different version than the Tokyo radio which broadcast that a landing force of about 200 Americans "had been repulsed."

"Known enemy losses inflicted by the Marines are at least 80 Japanese killed, radio installations and stores destroyed and one large and one small seaplane destroyed on the water," the communique said.

Losses were suffered by the enemy in heavy bombing attacks dealt by their own confused aircraft which arrived from other bases to assist their beleaguered countrymen.

"Ships of our expedition gunned and sank one small transport and one gunboat," the communique said. "Considering the nature of this operation our forces suffered only moderate losses."

Neither Roosevelt nor either of the other two officers in charge of the raid was on the casualty list, Admiral Nimitz said.

LEAKING WALLS ANNOY OWNERS

Haste in Construction of Modern Buildings Often the Cause

By PAUL T. HAAGEN

All types of masonry walls which leak are sources of vexation to their owners. Leaky walls are not confined to any type of masonry construction. Leaks have occurred and are occurring in walls built of the best materials and apparently with special care. The fact is often overlooked, however, that the percentage of those which leak is small compared with the large number of masonry walls that are water tight.

A logical explanation for the leaks in masonry walls is the haste with which our modern buildings are erected. Workmanship is frequently sacrificed for the sake of speed. Perfection in design cannot make up for this sacrifice. The prevention of leaky walls must begin with the design of the building, follow through the selection of materials and the supervision of the workmanship, and continue with the maintenance of the structure after its completion.

Flashing should be placed under all vertical joints in sills, coping, and caps or other horizontal surfaces which may permit the accumulation of water on or the passage of water through them. Projecting soldier courses and water tables, walls corbelled back and recessed panels with projecting horizontal courses at the bottom are frequently used without consideration for the more severe exposure resulting therefrom.

As a result, water seeps through the vertical joints into the wall. Snow and ice melting on these surfaces greatly increases the possibility of water entering the wall.

Flashing over horizontal surfaces may be necessary. There is no alternative for adequate flashing.

Parapet walls should be flashed through just above the roof level and also under the coping. Only permanent, rust-resisting metal or bituminous, asphaltic or pitch preparations should be used for flashings.

MODERN

A home with a modern trend with large well arranged rooms. The roof deck opening from the second floor is an added feature not often found.

BASEMENT RECREATION ROOM

The basement recreation room or rumpus room has many advantages, for a properly installed room of this type will keep the rest of the house undisturbed by the chatter and cheers of the game and the upset condition caused in a room when playing. Also the feeling of comparative isolation and freedom from restraints will make basement parties particularly carefree.

The hostess also appreciates a recreation room because when the last guest leaves there is no immediate necessity for a clean-up at that late hour. It really doesn't matter that the furniture may have been disturbed or disarranged and that ashes are on the floor.

The recreation room takes a lot of punishment and comes back for more repeatedly.

CHANGES IN DINING CUSTOMS

The modern family eats breakfast in a bustle and hurry, few members get home at noontime, and dining out is a growing habit. So, why have a large dining room? New appliances have contracted the kitchen to even a greater extent. Builders have been a bit slow in adopting the methods of modern hotel designers who use two-inch solid partitions of plaster on metal lath between bedrooms and for closet enclosures. Such partitions conserve space, reduce building costs and add a high degree of fire retardance.

INVEST IN A HOME

Throughout the last few years of economic depression, the old and fundamental soundness of careful investment in a home and lands has again been enunciated. Amidst the chaotic deflation of almost every known type of investment, money placed in a good home which was not purchased at an excessive cost, has continued to return, year in and year out its full measure of dollar-for-dollar value.

Money saved through investment in a home in which the owner expects to live is money placed beyond the reach of any future economic upheaval. Money buys a service which is needed throughout the life of its owner.

If one has ever thought of the desirability of owning his own home and has failed to make the dream come true in the past, do your decisive thinking on the subject today, because existing circumstances demand it. Never since the American settlers first built their homes of logs has it been so easy, from a financial standpoint, for the average family to acquire a good new home on terms which they can afford.

Unusual conditions, peculiar to the period in which we are living today and which are unlikely to be repeated within a generation, have produced this situation:

First, for several years now American building developments have produced this situation: First, for several years now American building developments have been going along at an all-time low ebb. Naturally labor and material costs are low as yet there is no building revival to boost them out of sight.

Secondly, to stimulate the lagging recovery of the great building industry, which is normally the second largest industry in the United States, the government has set up the Federal Housing Administration to administer the United States, the government has set up the Federal Housing Administration to administer the National Housing Act, whereby new low cost home loan arrangements have placed the cost of living in and buying a new home on a par and in many cases lower than prevailing rents.

Brighten your home with a bright, crisp attractive Mule-Hide Cor-Du-Roy Roof. And you can be sure just how nice it will look by making your selection from our Mule-Hide Color-Stylet. We'll be glad to let you borrow it and take it home while you make your choice.

(From Glens Falls, N. J. Times): "A farewell banquet was tendered last evening to Wilfred Smith, who leaves with the next group of selectees to be inducted into the army. Several brief talks were given and Mr. Smith was presented a nurse."

Lawyer: "Now, madam, I ask you, do you understand the nature of an oath?"
Witness: "Listen, mister, I just left my husband up on a stepladder trying to paper a ceiling with his hair full of paste."

Leaky foundation walls make cellars damp and increase your fuel bill. Water-proofing properly applied will help. Phone the Home Lumber Co. today and we will recommend the proper materials.

Small Boy: "Mother wants to borrow some pots and pans right away, Mrs. Nabor."
Mrs. Nabor: "Having a party?"
Small Boy: "No—it's starting to rain and our roof leaks."

The best way to keep cookies and candy safe from the children is to lock them in the pantry and hide the key under the soap in the bathroom.

Betty: "Will you take care of my boy friend tonight?"
Marie: "I will not! Don't wish any of your small jobs on to me."

"Love is the one game that is never called on account of darkness."

Shank Home Is Now Under New Mule-Hide Roof

A new roof on any home just helps top things off but when you use the Genuine Mule-Hide, we think and so do all the buyers of Mule-Hide, that it is something worth talking about. Many times you have probably heard us speaking about the many features of this roofing and the amount of beauty and how it will help transform your home into a more liveable and more attractive place in which to live.

William Shank, a well-known Dixonite, is now having the new Mule-Hide Green Crest Shingles applied to his home. And to comment further, we think it will be a swell looking job well done when it is finished in a few days.

Attic of James Boyer Home Is Remodeled

Mrs. James Boyer informed us the other day that they are now in the process of remodeling the attic of their home, 77 Harrison avenue, into a modern and furnished two-room with bath apartment. Most of the work is completed with the exception of the built-in cabinets in the kitchen and some finishing touches here and there. Another good feature, we understand, is that there is a new back stair-way, something that will be appreciated by whoever rents the apartment.

"I met the most wonderful man last night. He's short, fat and permanently deferred."

"Was that a new girl I saw you with last night?" "No, just the old one painted over."

Navy Bill opines: "Before marriage a man yearns for a woman; and after that the 'y' is silent."

"What is puppy love?" "It's the beginning of a dog's life."

Charles Holley Weds in Missouri

Nuptial vows of Miss Wardella Rouse, daughter of the P. E. Rouses of Bucklin, Mo., and Charles Holley of Franklin Grove, were solemnized at 4 p. m. Sunday at the Methodist church in Bucklin, before an altar decorated with garden flowers.

The bride wore white, with a fingertip veil, and carried gladioli in an arm bouquet. Her only attendant, Miss Mary Frances Patrick of Fayette, Mo., was dressed in yellow chiffon, and also carried gladioli.

Charles Rouse, twin brother of the bride, served Mr. Holley as best man.

Mrs. Jessie Smart, cousin of the bride, was nuptial soloist.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, following the ceremony.

Mrs. Holley was graduated from Bucklin high school, and from Central college at Fayette, Mo. The bridegroom is an alumnus of West Los Angeles, Calif., high school, and received a doctor's degree from the University of Illinois. The couple will reside at Urbana, where Mr. Holley is employed as a research chemist for national defense.

DOROTHY STITZEL IS BRIDESMAID

Miss Dorothy Stitzel of Nelson was bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Margery Elaine Jones, youngest daughter of Mrs. Emily Jones of Sterling, and Lieut. Jack Longabaugh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Longabaugh, also of Sterling, which was solemnized Friday afternoon at the parsonage of the Fourth Street Methodist church in Sterling. The Rev. A. J. Tavenner performed the ceremony.

The bride wore white tulle with brown accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses, and Miss Stitzel chose an all-white suit with a shoulder bouquet of red roses.

The young couple left last night for San Francisco, Calif., where they will reside.

SEVENTH YEAR

Don David Reeder, son of the H. C. Reeder of 512 North Ottawa avenue, celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary on Wednesday with a matinee party and wienner roast at Lowell park. Ice cream was served with birthday cake for the dessert course.

Young Dixonites Display Talent in Simple Dramatics

—Telegraph Photo and Engraving

A dramatic school, that has offered semi-weekly instruction in simple dramatics since mid-June in the auditorium of the South Central grade school, has made a "stay at home" summer a pleasant one for the large group of Dixon children participating.

Every Monday and Thursday afternoon since June 15 has found from 17 to 40 children assembling at the school to take part in a program of "impromptu dramatics" that began with dramatization of such simple tasks as tying one's shoe or combing one's hair, (and the audience was asked to guess the interpretation, charade-fashion). Later, familiar Mother Goose rhymes were dramatized, and finally there were impromptu skits ranging from the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, to "The Pied Piper of Hamelin", that was presented on the closing day, Aug. 20, at an open house attended by 172 children and parents. The action and words for "The Pied Piper" were composed by the children themselves, assisted by Miss Olive Palmer, director, and her assistant, Miss Hazel Hecker.

EAKLE FAMILY HOLDS REUNION

Members of the Eakle family held their yearly reunion on Sunday at the Ogle county fair grounds in Oregon, with about 30 relatives attending. A chicken dinner was served at noon.

During the afternoon business meeting, it was agreed to retain the present officers for 1943. The oldest member was Henry Hardesty of Dixon, 80, and the youngest was Frederick Howard Drew, three-month-old son of the Merle Drews.

The association plans to return to Oregon for its next reunion, scheduled for the third Sunday of August, 1943.

MISS RITA BENNETT AND EDWARD J. YOCKEY PLAN TO BE WED IN LATE FALL

Today there's news of another young woman who is planning a late autumn wedding. Mrs. John Francis Bennett of 118 East Fellows street is announcing the engagements of her youngest daughter, Alice Rita Ann, to Edward John Yockey, only son of the senior Edward John Yockeys of Milwaukee.

Miss Bennett attended St. Mary's college of Notre Dame, and has been employed at the Illinois Northern Utilities company. Her fiancé was graduated from the Marquette university school of law at Milwaukee, and is now associated with the department of justice in Chicago.

The couple have not yet set the date for their wedding.

MISSION BAND HOLDS PICNIC

Twenty-five members and guests attended yesterday's picnic for the Mission band of Grace Evangelical church. Swimming and games were fun, following the luncheon. Accompanying the children to the park were Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich, Mrs. Kenneth Seiler, and Mrs. Lewis Robinson.

AN ODE TO THE DEVIL

Berlin's black beast is loose upon the earth
With murder, rape the order of the day;
The double cross of anti-Christ hangs high,
The peace of Jesus Christ has fled away.
Chased by that ranting, cursing, beast of hell,
Black beast who does the devil's work so well,
Who twists the minds of men from thoughts of God,
And blights with hate the hearts God made for love.

Black beast that's surely sired by Prussian hate
Of God and Jesus Christ — His only Son —
Would fain assume that pow'r o'er life and death
That stems from God and righteous government;
That harmony might never reign again.

Within the hearts of all God's chosen ones
The feel should know that love of Jesus Christ.
This same insane foul beast—his tortured mind
Playground to a thousand crazy devils—
Dares to deny, as ev'ry devil must,
To Christ the worship that belongs to God.

To him, this devil from the heart of hell,
All men must bow and scream their senseless heils;
To self-appointed God — their anti-Christ —
Incarnate fiend spewed forth in hate from hell.

The lovely loving God from time to time
Spoke words of mercy to His creature man.
That man might be a likeness to his God,
Deserve the blessings of eternal rest.

To implement His word God sent His Son,
Thru Mary pure the mother of our Christ.
In that cold cave our Infant King was born,
By word of deed to keep us close to Him.
But lo! Berlin's black beast enraged, says no,
Away with God, away with Jesus Christ.

Lo! I am Christ and God—my word you'll keep,
As written in "Mein Kampf" — this is the truth
The light, the way to pow'r and world-wide fame,
Snuff out the old—and murder all the sick.
Away with love and peace of Jesus Christ,
Accept the sword of hate I bring from hell.

The shadow of his bloody double cross
Has plunged the whole world into darkness deep.
A darkness that is but the devil's curse,
The curse beget of faithlessness to God.
Arise ye Germans who believe in God,
And Jesus Christ, His son, Our only Lord
Pray that His mother show us all the way
To chain and drive this devil back to hell.

The bugles call all Christian men to arms
For God, for Christ, that men may ever live
As God wills free men to enjoy the right
To life, to peace in earthly paradise.
God calls the Yank — the Irish and the Swede—
The French, Italians—men of every breed
To crush the vilest monster of all time,
Berlin's black beast, who double-crossed our Christ.

Arise, Sir Knights One hundred thousand strong,
And mount your winged steeds to roam the skies.
To blast that monster from his airy nest—
Destroy his slimy tentacles that stretch
To such life blood from free men now enslaved
Who get there with too little all too late.
Knights dig with blasting bombs this devil's grave,
And call back Christ—the human race to save.

Keep an Eye on That Old Army "Line"

By RUTH MILLETT

Two things are important for the young girl who is dating a soldier—a sense of values and a sense of humor.

She'll need the sense of values so that she won't let the glamor of a uniform and the impressive thought that her young man is ready to risk his life for his country, put her in the frame of mind where she thinks she is deeply in love when she isn't.

And she may need the sense of humor to cope with the young man.

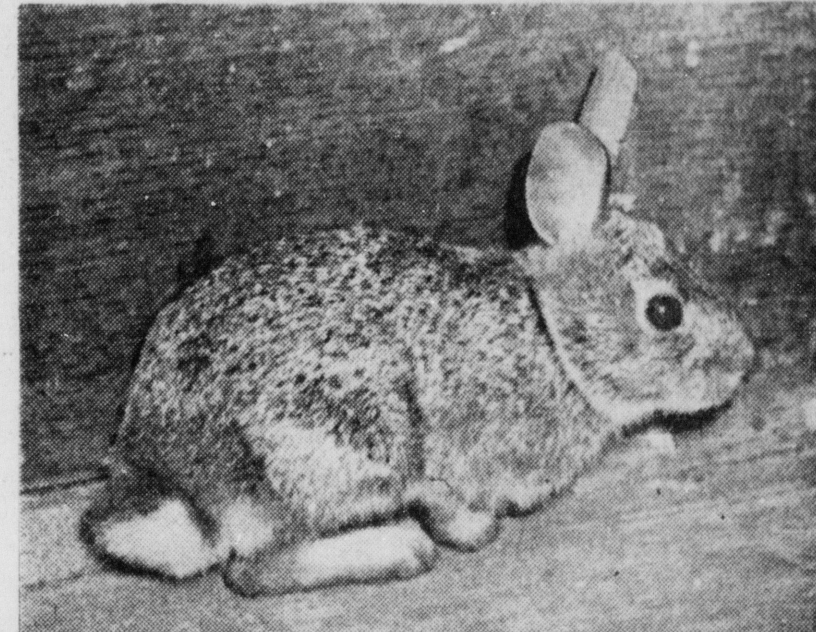

Uniforms Can Fascinate
For the sense of humor is the best guard a girl can have against falling for the "there's so little time and you're so lovely" line of persuasion.

It will stand her in good stead, too, if the young man gives her a "this is war" pep talk—or plays on her emotions by hinting sadly that he may never come back.

She won't be taken in by those old lines if she has enough of a sense of humor to see them for what they are.

Of course her young man may really be THE one—but if he is, just have a short affair which they try to keep from seeming

Mystery in the Dark Room

Even this little rabbit couldn't see where he was going when darkness settled down during Dixon's recent blackout, and evidently mistook the stairs leading to The Telegraph's engraving department for the main highway to the nearest lettuce patch. At any rate, he was discovered by Al Berner, staff photo engraver, when Al opened shop the next morning. The half-grown bunny is shown above, huddled in a corner of the dark room, shortly before Al returned his furry visitor to the wide open spaces.

cheap by playing up the war back drop.

Girls can have a lot of fun dating soldiers (if they don't date them, most of them won't have many dates) and they can help the soldiers have fun, too. But they're just plain dumb if they let a uniform get the best of their sense of values and their sense of humor. For a girl has to be smart enough to take care of herself in war time as well as other times.

A Thought for Today

And the priest said unto them, Go in peace; before the Lord is your way where-in ye go.—Judges 18:6.

Peace be within thy walls, and prosperity within thy palaces.—Psalms CXXII:7.

This Is Not Prosperity

There is an unfortunate tendency to think of the current economy as a boom, an era of prosperity and happy days (financially) that are here again.

That is crooked thinking, and dangerous.

True, there are more men and women at work than ever before. They are receiving the highest wages in history. For the first time in years the farmers are enjoying a seller's market at top prices.

Those are most of the elements which traditionally have been symbols of prosperity. But times have changed. Now these things do not mean happy days. Taken in their context, they provide a brilliant, red flare warning against danger ahead.

There is plenty of money. Almost everybody has more than he used to. But he can't eat money. He can't wear money. He can't tune in money and listen to a broadcast. He can't ride to the seashore or the golf links in money. He can't keep his butter from melting in summer, or his milk from souring, with money.

Beyond a certain point, which is quickly reached, money is useful only so long as there are necessities, conveniences, luxuries for which money can be exchanged.

Up to now, and to a decreasing extent for the next few months, the unprecedented flow of money to wage-earners can be translated into those concrete possessions which constitute genuine prosperity.

There still are used cars—some with excellent tires—to be had; electric refrigerators, radios, sports equipment; all the things so many wanted so long, and were denied for lack of enough money.

But very soon, when existing stocks have been depleted, money will lose much of its present virtue, because there will be only a limited supply of goods to be bought.

There is every reason to suppose that Americans will not suffer for lack of adequate, wholesome food, although variety will be less and some items will be scarce. There should always be ample clothing, though quality and style will not be what we have considered essential.

But food and clothing do not denote prosperity. They do not provide for what we consider the American way of living.

Real prosperity is present only when, after satisfying the subsistence needs for food, clothing and shelter, a people is in position to acquire all the conveniences, the comforts, the minor luxuries of life.

So when we think of taxation and of wage indices, let's not fool ourselves that we can give enough and leave enough to preserve or improve the American standard of living.

The American standard of living has gone into ships, planes, tanks, guns, shells, bombs, invasion barges. There won't be any such thing again, until we have won this war.

Your Storekeeper and the War

This country owes a debt of gratitude to the retail industry. For no industry has shown a more aggressive and cooperative spirit in dealing with the tremendous problems imposed by our war economy. That goes for chain stores, independent stores, department stores and all other accepted forms of retail distribution.

Long before Federal price control was adopted, retailing in general went to work to hold prices down. Whenever possible, it lowered its operating costs and passed the savings on to the consumer. In many instances, it voluntarily reduced its own modest margins of profit in order to control prices. It is a significant fact that, over a long period of time, wholesale prices increased to a far greater extent than retail prices. In other words, had retailers increased their mark-up on the basis of the wholesale price index, the cost of living would have been substantially higher than it actually was.

As shortages and priorities became more severe, retailers took the lead in advising consumers on how to select and use suitable substitutes. They issued factual information which showed the consumer how to make many kinds of articles last longer. And in the food field, retailers are an important factor in advancing the National Nutrition Campaign, which is designed to guide the housewife in preparing healthful, appetizing meals at minimum cost.

Today, retailers are proving their abilities as salesmen of War Stamps. A short time ago, a "Retailers for Victory" drive was started, in which all kinds and sizes of stores participated. The object is to sell $1,000,000,000 worth of War Stamps and Bonds each month for the duration. Reports on the early weeks of the campaign show that, as usual, America's retailers are doing the job with complete and spectacular success.

Your store, in short, is more than just a place where goods are bought and sold in routine fashion. Retailing is working to protect the consumer to the ultimate of its abilities on the one hand—and to give maximum service to the war effort on the other.

We Know Why

A correspondent returned from Italy says that Britain has launched a whispering campaign to undermine Mahatma Gandhi with the American people. "Just why the British are trying to undermine Gandhi's prestige in this country I do not know," says the traveler.

We know. The British want to undermine Gandhi because the Mahatma's influence threatens to permit Japan to capture India, join hands with the Nazis, and turn this world over to the most brutal, uncivilized type of totalitarianism for generations to come.

If Gandhi has any influence or prestige left in this country, let's undermine it, fast.

In an Illinois town divorcees are equaling the number of marriages. Love evidently is finding a way—out.

NEWS BEHIND THE NEWS

By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Washington, Aug. 21—It may have sounded a little strange when Production Director Donald Nelson returned from his vacation announcing he was going to get tough about inefficiencies in his organization—and then singled out for firing first an employee who had told the newspapers about the deficiencies in steel.

To an outsider it may have seemed remarkable that Nelson started improving his organization by firing an employee who told the public one thing wrong with it. But that was not exactly the situation.

The overall truth is the war production board has been loaded with a motley assortment of some legitimate businessmen, some business hangers-on, or what might be called "marginal businessmen" (those unsuccessful men from commercial life who have made a career out of government service for the last few years), and a formidable array of new deal social reformers, as well as expert, clear-headed, capable economists and officers from other government departments.

The variety of interests represented by these conflicting groups has inspired constant internal turmoil.

One of the favorite tricks of these marginal businessmen, or reformers, is to concoct a personal report setting forth his own views as to what is wrong, and then to leak same to the newspapers as a conclusion of the war production board, or at least a matter under study there.

This had to be stopped first, and Nelson's initial choice of a victim was apparently a constructive effort to break up that practice, whether or not it was properly applied in that case.

Some of them may be taken into the army and navy. WPB rolls contain an exceptionally large number of single men without dependents, and married men with rich or working wives, and they are in the age bracket of the lower thirties which makes them suitable for practical military effort.

Nelson is being criticized by the new deal element, in and out of his organization, for not straightening out his relations with the army and navy with a clear-cut agreement as to authority.

Actually he entered such an agreement in writing last March 12. The memo then adopted by him and army and navy authorities was not made public at that time, but he apparently told the Truman investigating committee about it.

Under this agreement memo, he gave the armed services four powers:

- (1) Direct authority to work out production schedules;
- (2) Authority to re-negotiate contracts;
- (3) Power over plant construction; and
- (4) direction of purchasing procedure.

This left his WPB with control over allocating materials between military and non-military users, but gave most other responsibility for fulfillment of the program to the army and navy.

If the argument now expands over who is to be the "goat" for any failure to meet production schedules, this overlooked memo is likely to play an important part.

Fortunately, however, the initial steps already being taken—as well as the popular comment—are veering away from that dangerous, delaying and possibly disastrous trend of goat finding, and toward a realistic solution of the actual problem—which is to locate the raw materials and get them to the right places.

The Churchill-Stalin conversations were no doubt concerned primarily with the problem of British and American supplies for Timoshenko's Caucasus army now retreating into the mountains.

While the problem of the second front is lively in public discussions and in morale-building propaganda efforts, it is purely a military one and not to be decided by Churchill and Stalin.

But what Churchill could well have gone to Moscow to talk about is how he and the Americans might be able to sustain Timoshenko through the winter if he will hold the top of the Caucasus.

There he would be cut off from Russia proper, but accessible to the British and to us via the Iran rail line from the Persian Gulf and by plane from Egypt. We could send not only materials, but troops.

Morning worship at 10:45.

Evangelistic service at 8 p. m. Services will be conducted by Rev. A. J. Shields, who will bring the messages in morning and evening services.

Services will be dismissed all next week at the tent due to the fact that we will be preparing our mission building, 309 W. First, for all our future services, beginning August 30. Cottage prayer meeting will be substituted for the mid-week services, time and place to be announced Sunday night.

Beginning Sunday morning, Aug. 30, services will be conducted in the mission at 309 First, in the interest of those who never attend our many city churches. All are welcome to come, enjoy the blessings of the Lord with us, and help in this enterprise which is to the interest of the community in general.

Funerals

GEORGE W. NIEMAN

Sterling, Aug. 22—The funeral of George W. Nieman, who passed away at his home here early Friday morning, will be held at 9 o'clock Monday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church, with burial in Calvary cemetery.

Mr. Nieman was born in Middleton, Wis., April 7, 1871, the son of Fritz W. and Minnie Nieman. He learned the trade of millwright and came to Sterling about 30 years ago to accept a position as millwright in the Rock Falls paper mill. When that institution closed, he became connected with Lawrence Brothers in the same capacity which position he filled until his final illness.

He was married to Miss Margaret Grady, June 27, 1904, at Schuyler, Neb. She survives, as do four daughters and one son, Ensign George Nieman, U.S.N., now in active service. A wire from the United States Navy department expressed regret, but stated that Ensign Nieman is now at sea and cannot be reached. The daughters are Mrs. H. N. Kaup of Rock Falls; Mrs. K. G. Mall, Dixon; Mrs. Douglas Tiff, Sterling, and Miss Ann Nieman, at home. He is also survived by one sister, Miss Minnie Nieman of Schuyler, Neb., and seven grandchildren.

His mother, Mrs. Fritz Nieman, preceded him in death last Christmas.

Boy Scout News

Troop 89—Both parents and members of Boy Scout troop No. 89 will enjoy a picnic outing at Lowell park Tuesday evening of next week. Mrs. William Worley, chairman of the Scouts Parents club, is in charge of arrangements and those parents who plan to attend are requested to call her for instructions. C. J. McLean, Scoutmaster, has arranged for a Court of Honor camp fire which will follow the scramble supper and several of the Scouts will receive recognition for advancement. Those attending will meet at the beach from 5:30 to 8:30.

Canning sugar purchase certificates must be cashed within sixty (60) days from date of issuance. This does not mean that the holder of a certificate must receive the total amount of sugar which is indicated on the face of the certificate at one time. The grocer may accept the certificate, deliver a part of the amount of sugar called for on the certificate, and set up a credit for the balance. This transaction must be adjusted by the grocer and the certificate holder to their mutual satisfaction.

The grocer must, in turn, present these certificates to his wholesaler within the 60-day period from the date of issuance of the certificate.

The wholesaler must turn accumulated certificates in to the rationing office and will receive one certificate for the total amount of all turned in.

The grocer has the same privilege as does the certificate holder, that of asking his wholesaler to set up a credit for him, if he does not wish to withdraw all the sugar at one time.

Lodges and Patriotic Orders

Elks—A regular meeting of Dixon lodge, No. 779, B. P. O. Elks, will be held at the club house Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Several matters of importance to the membership will be presented.

Birthday Surprise

Miss Irene Barnickel was guest of honor Monday evening at the William Barnickel home when 40 relatives and friends gathered to surprise her on her birthday. The evening was spent playing Bunco and 500. Prize winners in Bunco were Lavilla Mae Swope, Wilbur Althaus, Freda Haefner, Donald Ladenburger. In 500 the winners were Mrs. Ralph Mehlbrech, Mrs. Wilbert Weitzel, Mrs. Alton Zinke, Mrs. Mary Eich. A delicious lunch was served later in the evening, after which the honored guest opened her lovely gifts. The table which held the gifts was decorated with a lovely birthday cake with candles. All departed wishing Irene many more happy birthdays.

School Opens September 8

Compton public grade and high school will open September 8, with registration at 9 a. m. In regard to students enrolling for the first time this fall, all such students shall have reached their sixth birthday on or before Feb. 1, 1943.

The books will be furnished by the district as in the past, except a book rental of 50 cents will be charged plus a yearly book deposit of 50 cents per student. If the books are in an acceptable condition at the close of the school year, the deposit will be returned.

The faculty in both the grade and high school will be the same as last year. New high school subjects this year will be Latin, home economics and advanced mathematics.

Mrs. Zelda Swope will teach the first four grades, Mrs. Helen Beemer will teach fifth through eighth grade, Miss Mary K. Wolfe will teach general business, home economics, typing, world history and girls' physical education, R. W. Bunting will teach science, English, and Latin. He will coach literary and dramatic activities and be Scoutmaster.

Raymond Walter will be superintendent and athletic coach, and will teach beginning and advanced mathematics and American history. Also grade and high school boys physical education. George Wolf will be janitor as in the past. An instrumental music teacher is being secured.

Women's Club Program

Tuesday, August 11, the board of the Compton Women's club met at the home of Mrs. R. Bunting, president to discuss and plan the program for the coming year. Following is the program:

September—American Home Department, with Mrs. Deutsch of Dixon giving the welcome address, and Miss Killeen who represents the Northern Utilities, giving a talk.

The Public Welfare Department plans the October meeting. Mrs. Roland, the state chairman for the Park Ridge school for girls, will be the principal speaker. The other philanthropies the club contributes to will be explained at this meeting.

A program on flower arrangement will be presented at the November meeting. The fine arts department has charge of this program. The Coca-Cola people will present the program.

The December program will be arranged by the Fine Arts chairman.

In January the Citizenship Department presents Dr. Brown from the Chicago Institute of Technology. He will talk on "India," the country of great contrasts. He also presents movies. In addition there will be a magician. As has been the custom in the past, this meeting will be family night.

The February program again comes under the sponsorship of the Citizenship Department. Mrs. Anderson, state international relations chairman, will talk on Pan-American Relations. The Public Welfare Department presents Margaret Wells Wood of the University of Illinois at the March meeting. Her address will be of great interest to members and the title will be announced later.

At the April meeting Mrs. D. C. Thompson, 13th district president, will address the club. This meeting is planned by the American Home Department.

In May the Defense Department will plan a Victory banquet.

Plans for the annual trip will be discussed at the September meeting.

Tuesday evening, Helen Beemer, Alta and Vivian Cook, Virginia Ogilvie, Margaret and Mary K. Wolfe enjoyed a steak fry at the Mendota lake. Margaret Wolfe is visiting her sister, Mary K. Wolfe and Helen Beemer.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Abell, son Ralph of Gary, Ind., spent from Sunday until Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. George Walter.

Idle Hour Club

Mrs. Floyd Archer entertained the club at her home Tuesday afternoon and it was also a stork shower for Mrs. Esther Henkle. Several games were played and were won by Mrs. Doris Schlesinger and Mrs. Esther Kern. Mrs. Doris Schlesinger also won the mystery gift. The club's next meeting will be a scramble dinner at Mendota lake, on Tuesday, Sept. 29. The hostess then served a lovely lunch to her guests.

BABE RUTH, WALTER JOHNSON TO HEADLINE WAR RELIEF TILT TOMORROW

Yanks Blast Out 21 Hits in 17-7 Win

Cubs Are Victors Over Reds; White Sox Bow to Cleveland

The American League, which holds the upper hand over the National league in World Series and All-Star game performances of the past few years, will attempt to catch up with its older companion tomorrow in baseball's contributions to war relief.

Far behind the senior circuit in funds produced for the armed forces through receipts of designated games, the American league has pinned its hopes on the New York Yankees for boosting the total somewhere near the National league's gift of better than a quarter of a million dollars.

The Yankees will be aided by the Washington Senators and both teams will have the help of their brightest stars of former years—Babe Ruth and Walter Johnson. Although the main attraction at Yankee Stadium is supposed to be the double-header between the two clubs, top billing has gone to the Babe and the "Big Train."

Red Sox Whip A's
With Johnson pitching, Ruth will step to the plate between games and attempt to belt the ball out of the park, just as he did no less than 714 times in his 22 years as a major league player.

Before yesterday's game which opened the New York-Washington series at the Stadium, Ruth did a little practicing. Batting against Gerry Priddy, an infielder, the Babe drove three balls far back into the right field seats.

After their former slugging star retired, the Yankees went out and put on a demonstration of their own, blasting 21 hits off three Washington pitchers to crush the Senators, 17-7.

The Yankees needed the victory to preserve their 10½-game margin, for the second place Boston Red Sox whipped the Philadelphia Athletics, 7-5, in an arc light game, although they were out-hit, 12 to 11.

Cleveland's Indians squeezed out a 3-2 decision over the Chicago White Sox in another night game, strengthening their hold on third place with the help of the Detroit Tigers, who tripped the St. Louis Browns.

Tigers Subdue Browns
Mel Harder pitched five-hit ball for the Tribe to shade Lefty Thornton Lee, who gave up only seven blows, but nicked Oris Hockett with a pitched ball after loading the bases and forced in the deciding run.

Home runs by Barney McCoskey and Rudy York sparked a four-run Tiger outburst which carried Detroit to a 4-1 decision over the Browns.

The National league program was confined to a pair of afternoon games, but in one of these the St. Louis Cardinals walloped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 10-2, and reduced the lead of the idle Brooklyn Dodgers to six games and a half.

It was the seventh straight triumph for the Cards, who are gathering steam for their important four-game showdown with the Dodgers next week.

The Chicago Cubs routed Ray Starr and beat the Cincinnati Reds, 6-3, to give Bill Lee his 13th mound success.

NO-HITTERS COMMON

Chanute Field, Ill.—(AP)—Softball no-hit games are rarities, but two were recorded here in three days of inter-squadron competition. And both pitchers were from Detroit.

Clifford Coones, pitching for the 15th Squadron, beat the 35th, 4 to 0. Lester Montibeller hurled the Medics to a 6-to-1 victory over the Headquarters Squadron, three errors accounting for the one run against him.

SUGAR RAY PUTS FLOCKS TO SHANK IN SECOND HEAT

Robinson Likely to Go Through Fistic Career Undeclared

By SID FEDER
New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Ray Robinson, the skinny Harlem boy, begins to look like the first fellow in four decades likely to go through a fistic career without losing a fight. This was especially apparent last night after the dusky swatter took the Colorado cowboy, Reuben Shank, apart in two heats at Madison Square Garden.

According to the oldest inhabitants, Billy Thom was the last fighter to bow out with a record that never showed a defeat. Before him there were the light-weight champion Jack McAuliffe and bantamweight boss Jim Barry.

And now along comes Robinson to threaten to turn the trick again. At least, there doesn't seem to be anyone around who can put the zinger into his string, which now has reared 34 pro fights and 89 amateur outings without a setback. Welterweight champ Red Cochrane, the sailor boy who sat in as a spectator at last night's fust, will have to prove it before a lot of the know-it-alls will believe that he has a chance.

For a few minutes last night, Shank's charges and free-wheeling wallops looked as if they might make trouble, and the crowd of 10,437 caught on quickly. But Reuben made two mistakes. The first was when he showed up at the Garden. The second was when he caught Sugar Ray a shot on the whiskers early in the second round. This second error shook Robinson up and acted like stepping on the starter of your car. It made Ray's engine explode. He floored Reuben four times. The fourth time the referee gave Shaank his hat and told him the show was over. And even Reuben was convinced by that time.

It made Ray's engine explode. He floored Reuben four times. The fourth time the referee gave Shaank his hat and told him the show was over. And even Reuben was convinced by that time.

Shank's charges and free-wheeling wallops looked as if they might make trouble, and the crowd of 10,437 caught on quickly. But Reuben made two mistakes. The first was when he showed up at the Garden. Musto Wins 2-1 Decision Over Savold

Referee, Most of Ringsiders Give Verdict to Iowan

Washington, Aug. 22—(AP)—Lee Savold, the blond Iowa heavyweight whose chief ambition is a crack at Champion Joe Louis, holstered "robbery" today, and he wasn't alone.

Lee thought he was doing right well against Tony Musto, the built-close-to-the-ground Chicagoan, in a 10-round here last night. So did Referee Eddie Lafond and most of the ringsiders, but the two local judges, Dr. Robert Eller and Dr. O. U. Singer, thought otherwise.

The result was a 2-1 decision for Musto. Tony stayed in a crouch most of the way and occasionally landed in the clinches, but Savold outboxed him whenever the battlers came out of their lethargy to mix it up.

Savold, who disposed of Lou Nova, the California ex-Yogi man, here a few months back, started out slow and never was very impressive. By the fifth round, however, he was taking the lead with stinging left jabs and occasional rights to the body.

Musto gained his point of advantage, in the view of the judges, from his slinging body blows in the clinches.

The upset win was Musto's first major achievement since he managed to stay nine rounds with Louis in St. Louis last summer.

Some 7,000 spectators booed the decisions lustily. Musto weighed 199 pounds, Savold 190½.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—One thing the war hasn't changed is the pre-season moaning of football coaches. . . . Here's a sample from Notre Dame's Frank Leahy, as relayed by tub-thumper Joe Petritz: "If we can get past Wisconsin in the opener, we may have another representative season. We will consider it an excellent year if we can win six or seven out of our 11 games" . . . And in compiling his new Clemson grid brochure, Joe Sherman put the data on Coach Frank Howard and his staff on perforated sheets so they could be torn out easily . . .

Sounds like a vote of no-confidence. . . . But Jim Crowley, safe at the North Carolina pre-flight school, doesn't hesitate to nominate Fordham, along with Penn and Boston college, as the class of the east this fall.

Illness has kept Red Rolfe out of the lineup a good part of this season and McCarthy is not willing to go along with his reserves, Frank Crosetti and Gerald Priddy. Crosetti, a weak hitter, is a fine fielder but cannot hold up for a long stretch, while the Yankee management has never been satisfied with Priddy either as a fielder or hitter.

George Weiss, head of the New York farm system, figures Stirmweiss can make the switch. A short while ago Weiss rated Stirmweiss as the outstanding minor leaguer of the year.

There was some talk that Brooklyn wanted to buy George to replace the slow-footed Billy Herman but the Yanks, not on good terms with the Brooks agency right now, put a stop to that. George is a crack bunter and a pretty fair all-around hitter. His average is in the .270's and he's knocked in more than 60 runs.

YANKS HAVE ANOTHER STAR-IF THEY CAN FIND PLACE FOR HIM

By DILLON GRAHAM
Wide World Sports Editor

New York — The Yankees are going to have a scourge of the base paths next year for the first time since Bolting Ben Chapman was running wild a decade ago.

He's George Stirmweiss, solid second baseman of the Newark Bears.

The Yanks of recent years haven't troubled themselves to worry about stealing their way around the bases. They've just hesitated safely on a bag until some mate knocked them in. Perhaps they won't actually need Stirmweiss' adeptness at pilfering next year, either, but his base running will add a little color and change to the New Yorkers' offensive.

Ben was the greatest base stealer the American League had seen since Ty Cobb's days. He swiped 63 bases in 1931, 38 the following season and 27 in 1933.

Stirmweiss is likely to wind up this season as tops in International league history. He has made off with more than 60 already and seems a cinch to better the loop record of 63 by Fritz Maisel in 1919. Stirmweiss may cause George Case of Washington to look to his laurels. Case has led the loop for the last three years, getting 33 last season.

Stirmweiss, who'll be remembered as a great football halfback at the University of North Carolina, will have to change positions when he joins the Yankees, for New York already has the great second baseman in baseball in Joe Gordon. George will get a chance at third base.

Illness has kept Red Rolfe out of the lineup a good part of this season and McCarthy is not willing to go along with his reserves, Frank Crosetti and Gerald Priddy. UNIFORM CHANGE A WELCOME TONIC TO MANY PLAYERS

Babe Young Wins Games for Giants as Outfielder

New York—It's funny what a change in monkey suits will sometimes do for a ball player.

Ernie (Schnozzle) Lombardi, so the Reds figured, was through after last season when the big, slow-footed catcher's batting average dropped to .264. Cincinnati peddled him to the Boston Braves and now he's a serious contender for the batting crown he won four years ago.

The Boston Red Sox thought so little of Stan Spence that they traded the flycatcher to Washington for an outfielder who was quickly passed on to the minors. And from the outset Spence has been a crack hitter. Right now there are only three hitters in the American league who boast a better average than Spence.

The Cardinals let Don Gutteridge go back to the minors two years ago. The Browns grabbed him last spring and he has been one of the main reasons for the Browns' upsurge into the first division. Not only has this second baseman hit comparatively well and timely, but his fielding has been classy and his experience has helped to steady the St. Louis inner circle and make a star out of rookie Vernon Stephens at short.

Chet Laabs of the Browns is another who is having a good year after several unsuccessful goes with various other big league clubs.

Buddy Hassett was never a ball of fire with either Brooklyn or Boston but he has played well as a Yankee. Joe McCarthy figures he has more than replaced Johnny Sturm at first.

Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize are another pair who are making the Cardinals sorry they sold them. Medwick is a batting champion contender as well as a possible choice as the year's most valuable player, while Mize is one of the leaders in homers and runs batted in.

Mel Ott is probably kicking himself in the shins because he didn't plant Babe Young in the outfield sooner.

For the larger part of the season Young rode the Giants' bench. When the 1941 season closed Babe was one of the National league's leaders in home runs and runs batted in. But opening day in '42 found him squatting in the dugout. He remained a bench warmer most of the season.

It appeared Babe would be drafted and the Giants, seeking a first base replacement and also a power hitter, bought Mize from the Cards. They spent some $70,000, so they had to use big Jawns, though Young had paced him in both homers and runs knocked across. No other team cared to gamble on buying Young and having the Army grab him.

Finally when Ott gave up on Hank Lieber — another player whose purchase had to be justified by regular duty—he stuck Young into the outer garden. Young's average is around .300 now and he's won quite a few games for the Giants with his long belts.

The New Yorkers by mid-August had gained a three-length edge on the Reds and, with Young around to furnish added power, the Giants may be able to outlast Cincinnati and hang on to third position. That makes it a good season for Mel's gang, a gang that everyone tabbed for fifth or sixth position.

STILL DANGEROUS

No batter in either league can compare with Boston's Joe Cronin as a run producer. Cronin has made 22 hits this season and knocked in 20 runs, almost a run for every hit.

Cronin is no longer a spring chicken and the rocking chair looked good to him this spring. He sank back into it when he became convinced that a rookie Johnny Pesky could replace him at shortstop. Pesky has done well, covering ground that Cronin's aging feet wouldn't reach and hitting often.

But despite his wish for inactivity, Cronin has had to play occasionally and has shown that he still is one of the league's most dangerous men at bat in the clutch. Joe may have to return to regular play when Pesky goes into the Navy.

Wehrle Is 4 and 3 Victor Over Kovach

Chicago, Aug. 22—(AP)—Wilford Wehrle, the blonde Racine, Wis., stylist, possessed the Davis Memorial trophy and a $100 war-bond today—plus his first major golf title as champion of the Chicago National Amateur tournament.

Wehrle, a seasoned veteran who has finished near the top of many amateur tournaments the last four years, defeated the Pittsburgh steel worker, Little Steve Kovach, 4 and 3 yesterday in the finals at Knollwood Country club.

Wehrle was hard pressed most of the way, however, and it wasn't until the afternoon round that he took the advantage for keeps as Kovach's putter and short iron game fell apart.

The Racine star picked up on the seventh hole to go one down during the morning and was unable to pull up to anything better than even terms until the 25th. When Kovach lost the hole with a bogey. From there until the finish on the 33rd Wehrle shaved two strokes off par, while Kovach slipped one over.

Charged With Larceny—

Charles Conkrite, Jr., who was released from the state work farm several weeks ago following a habeas corpus proceeding in the Lee county circuit court, was arrested yesterday afternoon at his home in Nelson by Deputy Sheriff L. E. Bates. Conkrite is charged with larceny and receiving stolen property and was to be arraigned in justice court late today. He was alleged to have taken two milk cans belonging to Ivan Floto, farmer, residing southeast of Nelson.

Day's Weather Report—

Monmouth, Ill., Aug. 22—(AP)—For the first time in more than 50 years, the Review Atlas went to press yesterday without its customary weather report.

The reason was that a swarm of bees took possession of the box in which W. E. MacDill, local observer, keeps his instruments.

MacDill's noon report was: Maximum yesterday 92. Minimum to noon today—bees. Noon temperature—more bees.

Last Playgrounds Day—

The children on the Dixon Park District's supervised playgrounds under the direction of Miss Olive Palmer spent the last day of the playground season at Lowell park Friday. The weather was ideal for swimming and hiking and the temperature of the water was suited to refresh rather than chill. The youngsters thought it was the right way to end the season when Hey Brothers Ice Cream Co. passed out free ice cream cups to everyone. There were one hundred and forty-seven children there to enjoy the day.

Air Maneuvers to Open Ten Day War Show, September 2

All Types of Army Aircraft to Take Part in Chicago Activities

Every available type of army aircraft used in the Sixth Service Command, their roaring motors churning the air above Soldier Field, will provide a sensational opening for the Army War Show coming to Chicago, September 2 through September 12, it was announced today by Major Charles Spencer Hart, War Department representative with the Army War Show.

Captain Samuel Cutler, in command of the air detail with his provisional task force, will lead his customary group of AT12s—advanced training pursuit ships, and during his sensational maneuvers he will communicate with the audience through his short wave radio set.

Efforts, however, are being made to augment Captain Cutler's command with light bombers, dive bombers, transports, observation and fighter planes in order to have 30 or more zooming over Soldier Field in the initial salute. The aviation portion of the program will open the show in order that all aircraft maneuvers will be completed before darkness sets in.

Captain Cutler's pursuit group will furnish most of the aerial acrobatics, which will include a routine of intricate turns at high speed to demonstrate the maneuverability of the pursuit ships. The huge anti-aircraft guns will be shown and their work will be explained in details as will the huge sound detectors that warn of the approach of enemy aircraft.

In the Battle Depot, to be erected adjacent to Soldier Field, patrons will have an opportunity to inspect a German Messerschmitt that was shot down over England and a Japanese Zero that was dropped at Pearl Harbor. The Battle Depot will be open from 2 to 10 p. m. daily while the Army War Show proper will be staged nightly at 8:30 o'clock.

All net proceeds from the entire engagement will go to the Army Emergency Relief Fund.

BALLET MASTER DEAD

New York, Aug. 22—(AP)—Michel Fokine, 64, internationally famous Russian ballet master who created "The Dying Swan" for the late Anna Pavlova, died early today.

Fokine, who was both dancer and choreographer, died in West Side hospital which he had entered Aug. 12 after contracting double pneumonia on a train returning from Mexico City, where he directed his last ballet less than two weeks ago.

The group also protested a recent ruling of the federal employment service limited its activities to placements in war plants. This followed a speech by Francis B. Murphy, state director of labor, declaring that "all citizens who are doing useful work are contributing to the war effort."

Brooks, Parker to Speak
Thirteen resolutions meeting considerable debate urged that the Legion accept for membership veterans of the present war. This met considerable opposition, however, particularly from the strong Cook county council.

Other resolutions offered opposed the union closed shop and asked formation of a national labor relations committee within the Legion.

Senator C. Wayland Brooks, Republican, and Maj. Gen. Frank Parker, executive director of the Illinois state council of defense, were on the speaking program late today.

The Legion Auxiliary, the Forty and Eight, and the Eight and Forty also were meeting. Only the Forty and Eight planned an election today, however, with Thomas D. Hickey of Quincy the leading candidate for Grand Chief de Gare.

the end of June these things had been accomplished.

But now much of the Japanese success has been undone. The famous rubber-band defense of the Chinese armies has operated with a remarkable snapback. The mid-section of the railway again is in Chinese hands and today's reports indicate that some 75 miles has been cleared of the invaders. At the same time the Chinese are threatening several of those bitterly contested airbase towns, any one of which might be a Shanghai La for a repetition of General Doolittle's Tokyo raid. These include Yushan in Kiangsi and Chuhshien, Lishui and Kinhsa in Chekiang.

Even while their communiques record the resurgence of their forces, Chungking military authorities have their fingers crossed. They keep in view the possibility that the Japanese are fighting merely rear-guard actions while taking out the best of their assault troops for use elsewhere, perhaps Siberia, perhaps far southern China. There have been interesting shifts of Japanese forces recently in French Indo-China and the Chinese are preparing to meet a possible assault on their southern border, perhaps on Kwangsi province. The Japanese have had little luck in their southern campaigns against China this year and may be looking for a new field of operations.

The prospect of a Japanese attack on Russia remains an ever-present danger, one that might alter the whole strategic position of the United Nations. All reports agree that Japan's Manchurian army is ready and eager to go. But the most favorable time for such a blow would be right now and every day that passes seems to make it more unlikely, at least for this year.

island raid only when he read the newspapers this morning, whereupon he remarked to a secretary: "Did you see where Jimmy was in the show?"

Press Secretary Stephen Early told reporters of this in remarking that neither the President nor Mrs. Roosevelt had any more information on the whereabouts or activities of their sons than the fathers and mothers of other officers and men in the armed services.

"They saw it in the papers this morning for the first time," Early added.

While the two were reading the headlines in the president's bedroom at breakfast, Mrs. Roosevelt entered the room and asked the chief executive whether he could tell her any more details of Major Roosevelt's participation in the raid than were in the morning papers.

The president, Early related, said he could not as he did not know any more than the papers, carried from Hawaii.

voted to return to work immediately.

William B. Taylor, west coast director of the CIO United Automobile Workers of America, said the work stoppage resulted from a company lockout of some skilled workers. The board official intimating in a telegram to the workers that the board's rejection of a wage increase demand was the cause.

Truck Drivers Strike

AFL truck drivers in six mid-west states went on strike in a dispute over wage differentials. In Chicago Robert Appel, secretary of the Central States Employers' Conference, said the strike was called "in defiance of the War Labor Board." He said the board had set Aug. 31 for a hearing. Drivers in Minnesota, North Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa and Nebraska, were affected.

In Pittsburgh a conference of CIO aluminum workers closed last night after fixing Aug. 27 as the date for local unions in seven plants of ALCOA to vote on approval or rejection of the WLB's decision denying a wage increase.

Nick A. Zonari, union president, said that if the locals reject the WLB decision, he would have the power to call a strike.

Married Men Told

registered Feb. 16 and plans are being made to call up 20 and 21 year olds who registered in June to fill September quotas.

Fairly Large Reservoir
Local boards still have a fairly substantial reservoir of single men within the draft ages. Some of these have been deferred because of employment in essential industries, while others have been deferred because of secondary dependents, such as ailing or aged parents and other relatives.

Hershey declared that drafting of men with dependents would follow the recently established order under which single men with secondary dependents would be called first; married men with no children next and married men with children last.

Hershey said that August and September quotas indicate that an army larger than that created in the last world war is being planned.

Gen. Hershey did not indicate when the first call was expected for married men. He said that the drafting of men with dependents depended on the army's needs and the number who enlist in the Navy, Marines and Coast Guard.

He warned industry to begin training large groups of older men and women to replace able bodied men in the indispensable war production jobs.

KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Shoals, Ind., Aug. 22—(AP)—Wilbur Terrell of near Huron, Ind., was killed yesterday when the car in which he was riding and a transport truck driven by Vernon Keller, of Mattoon, Ill., collided here. Four other men in the car with Terrell were injured.

Mrs. J. Harvey Wright, who is spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Elva Cright, was joyfully surprised on her fourteenth wedding anniversary, August 21, to receive a telegram from Camp Beauregard, La., saying her husband, J. Harvey Wright, had been promoted from the rank of captain to that of major. Major Wright was New York representative of the Kable Bros. company when the war activities developed.

He being a reserve officer, was sent to infantry school at Fort Benning, Ga., where he graduated and was then sent to the staff school for army corps at Jacksonville, Fla. After completing the course there he was sent to the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth which is considered the toughest course in the army. After graduating from that course a few weeks ago, he brought his wife and car to Mount Morris and went to Camp Beauregard, La., from where news comes of his promotion.

Rev. Arthur Neumann, pastor of Trinity Lutheran church will be the speaker at the final service at the Band Shell Sunday night. Music will be provided by the Misses Ruth Mitchell and Dorothy Jacobs who will sing "My Task."

Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Stonebraker announce the marriage of their daughter, Lois Jane, to George R. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Brown of Urbana, on Aug. 2 at the Grace Lutheran church at Champaign, Ill. Mrs. Brown has been attending the University of Illinois and is a senior in the home economics department where she is majoring in institutional management and dietetics. Mr. Brown attended the University of Illinois and Illinois Commercial college. At present he is employed by the Central Illinois Light Co. in Springfield.

The grade school board of education has announced the resignation of two of its faculty members, Mrs. Kathleen Peugh Marshall, who has taught in the local school for the past seven years, sent her resignation by telegram from Pendleton, Oregon, on Wednesday of this week. Mrs. Marshall's future plans were not indicated in the telegram. John Yeakel, who taught in the local junior high school during the past year, resigned his position to accept a position in the junior high school at Ann Arbor, Mich. The board of education has accepted with regret both resignations.

Robert Royer, who has taught in the upper grades of the Shannon, Illinois, public school for the past three years, has been secured by the board of education to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Yeakel. Mr. Royer attended Mount Morris college and has taken work at Manchester college and the State Teachers' College at DeKalb. He will teach arithmetic and general science in the upper grades and will act as assistant principal. Mr. Royer is married and has one child.

The board is making every possible effort to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mrs. Marshall and hopes to have a definite announcement to make by this time next week.

CHIEF OF UNITED NATIONS' OPERATIONS in the Pacific theatre, General Douglas MacArthur is steadfast in his determination that "We Will Return."

WAR BOOSTS FLAG MAKING — Oaks, Pa.—Betty Geasey poses as a modern Betsy Ross. The Stars and Stripes are pouring out of factories in hundreds of thousands.

AUCHINLECK HEADS BRITISH 8th ARMY — General Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck, nicknamed "The Auk," is shown leaving officers' quarters somewhere along the Nile River.

ANYTOWN, U.S.A. — When soldier big brother comes home on furlough, the small fry proudly gives his shoes the ol' shinola, to maintain the polish that is required of Uncle Sam's finest.

This, the Boeing B-17E, has been described by the War Department as "bigger and more deadly" than previous types in the flying fortress series. Fast outstripping the Axis in plane production, U. S. is turning out this type craft in ever-growing numbers.

EGGS VS. AXIS — Florence, S. C. — Eggsactly two hundred eggs in Johnny Deven's basket — enough to make six pounds of dried eggs for our boys overseas. With shipping space limited, the dried egg production has zoomed from 10 to 300 million pounds annually.

VICTORY GAME — New York — Patricia Reardon, stage star, uses a bat to affix her U. S. Defense Savings Stamp to this caricature of Axis gangsterism. The stamp is her admission to the "Stamp Out the Peril" shows being offered in theatres in the Metropolitan area.

WOMEN WAGE WAR — Thousands of women, like this one working on aluminum parts for planes, are helping to beat the Axis. But Woman's Home Companion points out that demand built up the aluminum industry which makes present production possible.

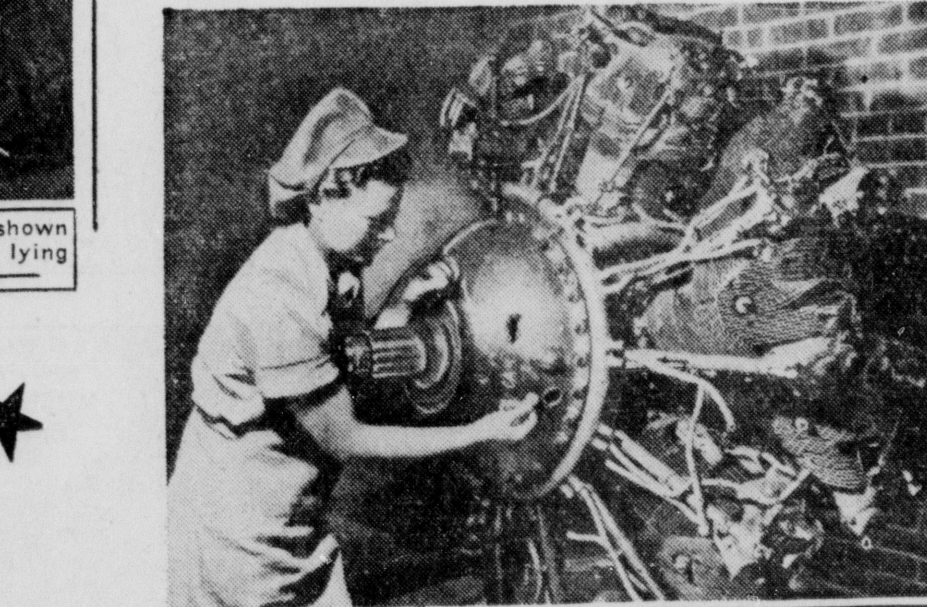

COMMITTEE MAPS SALVAGE PLANS — This group of industrial leaders is shown outlining a program for faster and more efficient utilization of vital scrap lying idle in the U. S.

AMPHIBIAN MONSTERS IN PRODUCTION — Detroit, Mich. — The amphibian tractor on which the Navy is taking delivery, indicates its power during a test by smashing through heavy timber with ease. Now being built in mass, the monsters are destined to roar out against the Axis.

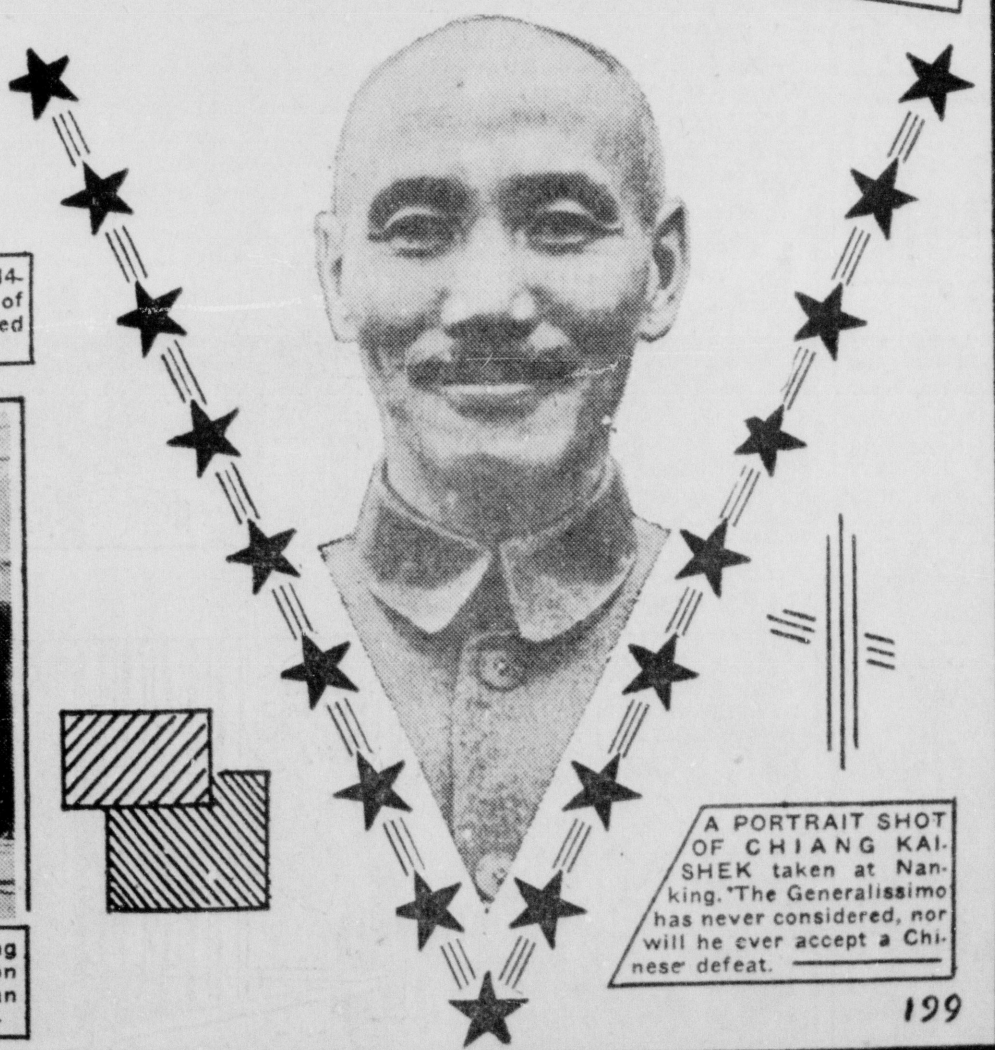

LEADING THE VALIANT RUSSIAN ARMY is Marshal Semyon K. Timoshenko, who has steadily been destroying Hitler's grand illusion of a quick Russian conquest.

ENGINE RODE THROUGH "HELL" — Paterson, N. J. — This shell-torn Cyclone 14-cylinder aircraft engine brought in a twin engined American built Boston bomber of the RAF back home across the Channel from a daylight raid on France. Riddled with bullets, the engine did its job to the very end.

TRAINING TO DEFEND MERCHANTMEN — San Francisco, Calif. — A class in signaling of the Armed Guard practices "wig-wagging" in what used to be the Court of the Moon during the Golden Gate exposition at Treasure Island. The guard is slated for an indefinite growth and expansion.

Baby To Be Given Away at Picnic in Rochelle Thursday

Father Drafted for U. S. Army; Mother Cannot Care for Babe

Rochelle, Aug. 22—An announcement of sensational proportions was made by the committee in charge of the Farmers' picnic, when they officially confirmed the rumor that a baby will be given away at the Farmers Picnic this year.

In confirming the rumor, the general chairman of the picnic said that he had been approached by relatives and friends of the baby, who claimed that it was to the "best interests of all concerned" that the baby be taken into a home, where it could be supported and reared in natural surroundings and properly cared for. The father was drafted for the Army several months ago, and the mother, being ill and alone, is unable to properly care for the baby, financially or otherwise.

Both parents have given their consent to the proposed method of disposing of the baby. Those who desire to provide a home for a beautiful, sixteen-months old, blue eyed baby girl, may place their application with Walter Needles, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce and General Manager of the Farmers Picnic. Each applicant will be carefully considered, and the baby will be given to the family that best qualifies, in the judgment of the committee. The baby is a healthy, normal one in every respect, and comes from good parentage, according to those who have investigated the circumstances surrounding this unusual case.

The baby will be awarded to its foster parents from the platform at the Farmers Picnic, sometime during the afternoon's program.

One of the featured attractions this year at the picnic, to be held next Thursday, August 27th at the shady grove next to the Catholic Cemetery on the South side, will be the appearance of 35 beautiful young ladies playing electric guitars, presented by Nellie and Walt's Studio of Chicago. These girls specialize in Hawaiian music, and have won nation-wide praise for their talents, having appeared in music festivals all over the country. They won first place last year at the internationally famous Chicago Music Festival, and were featured there again this year, a few days ago. They have also appeared in the Cleveland Music Festival. This is a "high class" attraction, and the committee that secured them are to be highly complimented for their success in getting them for the local event.

An athletic show will be presented by the Swedish-American gym of Rockford. They will present boxing matches, weight-lifting contests and high pole trapeze acts. The group contains highly skillful and talented entertainers who have been headlined at state fairs and theatres all over the country.

The Prairie Ramblers, famed radio stars featured on WLS, will also be here to entertain their thousands of fans of this community.

Nancy Allen, dancing instructor of Rockford, will present her local pupils in a dance revue.

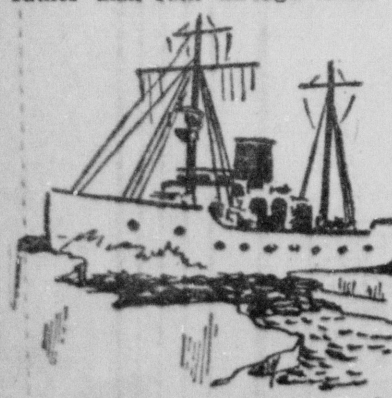

Robert Southey, of Burlington, Wis. has been booked for a special appearance. He will play his famous electric "solovox." This is a novel musical instrument and will prove entertaining to all.

As a special added feature there will be an amateur contest, with cash prizes. All amateurs interested should register at once with the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

It is imperative that the ship lanes be kept free of ice. With American troops occupying Iceland and the Navy using the northern route for transportation of supplies to Russia, ice breakers are essential to Naval operations. The ice breaker is a specially constructed ship with heavily armored bows and powerful engines that crush the ice floes rather than ram through them.

Ice breakers of the Kickapoo class operating in the North Atlantic cost approximately $10,000,000. You can help our Navy build these ships by investing at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every payday. Enroll in the payroll savings plan or apply at the nearest bank or postoffice. U. Sherman's Definition of War Inadequate, Says Lost Soldier

White Plains, N. Y., Aug. 22—
(AP)—Somewhere in a Philippines jungle on March 6, a United States Army captain, surrounded by Japs, included wry comments on his predicament in his will, written in letter form, the legality of which was pondered by Surrogate court today.

Whether the captain, Lamont T.
Clark of Lake Mahopac, is alive is not known. If the letter, which somehow reached his attorney, is admitted to probate, it would dispose of an estate estimated at $60,000.

"Sherman's definition of war is entirely inadequate," the captain wrote, "but the old gentleman never had the advantage of seeing the effects of a modern bomb dropped from a height of 20,000 or more feet. Neither did he ever have the pleasure (?) of being strafed by a plane armed with four 50-caliber machine guns and going some 200 M. P. H. at a distance of only four or five hundred feet."

Mrs. T. E. Stevens Dies

Mrs. T. E. Stevens, wife of a former pastor of the Presbyterian church here, passed away at Pasadena, Calif., Saturday evening, Aug. 8, according to word received here. Rev. Mr. Stevens was pastor of the Ashton and Franklin Grove Presbyterian churches from 1904 to 1908. Rev. and Mrs. Stevens never lost their interest and kindly feeling toward their friends in these two churches and often returned here for visits whenever possible. They will be remembered for their fine vocal music and their willingness to sing anytime.

Mrs. Stevens had been in failing health for four five years and passed away just five days after observing her 76th birthday anniversary. Her husband and son and daughter, Miss Irma Stevens, of Oceanside were with her on her birthday. The Stevens had been making their home in recent years in Phoenix, Ariz., but had often visited in Pasadena where their son Merle was proprietor of the Stevens Motors.

Beside her husband, Mrs. Stevens is survived by her son and daughter and three grandsons. Last rites for this lovely lady were in the Wee Kirk of the Hether in Forrest Lawn.

Obituary

Ressie R. Utz, aged 41, a well known farmer and business man, passed away at his home north of town Saturday evening at 6:50 o'clock following an illness of many weeks. He was a native of Bradford township. He was the elder son of Daniel and Kathryn Kelley Utz, and he grew to manhood in this community.

Saturday, February 26, 1926, he was united in marriage with Maude Anna Bowers of Dixon. Four years ago this coming October the 11, God blessed their home with a little daughter, Dorothy Ann, who survives. She has been the sunshine of the home and her father's heart's delight. Now a second child, another baby girl has been born to them on Sunday morning at the Dixon hospital, the morning following his death.

Mr. Utz was an ambitious fellow and at the time of his death he was farming two farms, besides maintaining his store here where for the past seven years he has conducted a Hybrid Seed Corn store for the DeKalb Agricultural Association of DeKalb. Along with the hybrid seed corn business he has for three years been associated with the Corn Belt Chick Hatchery of Joliet.

Ressie became a member of the Bradford Evangelical church and attended from his youth up. He took part in church work at Bradford, singing in the choir, etc. He was also superintendent of the Bradford Sunday school for some time. After his marriage he joined with his wife in attending the Dixon Brethren church where they went until their return to this community where they again attended the Evangelical church in Ashton. About three weeks ago he was appointed by Rev. Thompson of the Dixon Brethren church. He is survived by his wife, two small daughters, his mother, Mrs. Kathryn Utz of Dixon; a sister, Mrs. Ellen Farringer and a brother, Marion Utz also of Dixon. His father, Daniel Utz, preceded him in death, December 1, 1939.

Funeral services were held from the Evangelical church in Ashton Tuesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Reeves of the Methodist church, Rev. Thompson of Dixon, and Rev. S. L. Cover of this place. Interment took place in the Ashton cemetery. The casket bearers were: Glenn Wagner, Raymond Wolford, Charles Kenney of this community; Clarence Griesse, Oliver Eisenberg and George Lucky of Ashton community.

Former Resident Dies

Mrs. Luna Cortright, widow of the late Dr. W. E. Cortright, former residents of this place, died Saturday noon at her home in Ashton after a long illness. She was nearly 80 years of age.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Stephan Funeral home in Ashton and from the Congregational church in Lee Center. Services were conducted by Rev. Reeves, pastor of the Methodist church. Interment took place in the Woodside cemetery at Lee Center.

Kersten Reunion

The tenth annual Kersten family reunion was held Sunday in the Kersten gymnasium at this place, with 154 in attendance. A scramble dinner was enjoyed at noon, after which a business was held presided over by Joy Sandrock, president. Plans were made to hold the next reunion on the third Sunday in August at Dysart, Iowa and all the newly elected officers were from Iowa. The prize for the oldest person, went to Peter Nelson aged 87; and Hartman Kersten 81 received the prize for being the oldest Kersten descendant present. Jerry Paul Hann, six weeks old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernell Hann was the youngest person present; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schrieber of Waterloo, Iowa, came the longest distance. Mr. and Mrs. Bernell Hann of Rochelle were the most recently married. A program was enjoyed consisting of instrumental music, singing and reading.

Gone to Tennessee

Mr. and Mrs. Will Herbst and family and her mother, Mrs. Grace Stultz left Saturday morning for Smyrna, Tenn., where they will visit the latter's son, Pvt. Scott Stultz who is located in a camp there.

Methodist Church Notes

About seventy percent of the people of Franklin Grove missed getting inside the "Sin-Raid-Shelters" Sunday morning. The church is man's only protection and shelter against Eternal Death and Damnation. Maybe we need a "test black out" in the church so that "block captains," "defense wardens" and individuals of the church could learn anew the full implications of their Divine appointed jobs. The doors of our church are open and a welcome is extended to you and your family to attend each service. Church school, 9 o'clock. Fred Gross, gen. supt. Morning worship, 10 o'clock. Sermon theme, "Attractive Labor." T. B. Reeves, pastor.

A Real Success

The all-church social held around the new fireplace in the Methodist church yard Monday evening was a decided success. About 150 were present to enjoy the evening. The supper was served by the men of the church in an efficient manner. During preparations of cooking hamburgers a group of young folks gathered in the church and over a loud speaker sang several songs, accompanied by Jack Canode at the pipe organ. The menu consisted of hamburgers, corn on cob, cabbage and tomato salad, ice cream and cake. After refreshments all went to the church auditorium where the following program was presented: Accordion solo, Lou An Emmons; pipe organ solo, Jackie Canode; vocal solo, Miss Doris Howard; the girls' quartet composed of Darlene Ives, Rosemary Peterman, Jackie Canode and Janet Howard, favored with a vocal number, after which Mrs. Bell gave a reading.

Entertained

Mrs. Eva Miller and daughter Miss Eunice entertained Wednesday evening, Mrs. Lewis Myers, Mrs. Alfred Heintzelman, Mrs. Will Bick and daughter Miss Marie, Mrs. Clarence Miller, Mrs. Blanche Allen and daughter, Mrs. George Miller.

Personal Items

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pierce, a son, August 19, at the Dixon hospital.

Nelson

By MRS. M. C. STITZEL

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Palmer attended the funeral of A. L. Palmer, 77, at Belvidere on Friday. He died Wednesday, following an operation earlier in the week. George Palmer was with his brother when he passed away.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Eastabrook and son Donald came up from their home in South Pekin to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Stitzel. Mr. Stitzel remains about the same and is about the house every day and has been outside several times. Mr. Eastabrook returned to South Pekin Thursday and will return to Nelson again the end of the week, when Mrs.

Eastabrook and Don will accompany him home.

Mrs. Edward Ortgiesen is confined to her bed with a varicose ulcer. Her daughter, Mrs. John Gale is caring for her. She is much improved.

Mrs. Eugene Ortgiesen and baby daughter, Carol Jean will come home from the Dixon hospital on Sunday.

Mrs. Bessie Gale, who visited in Colorado Springs, Colo. the past six weeks, returned to her home Saturday.

Miss Betty Shore returned from a visit of several weeks with relatives in West Millburg, Ohio.
